INDEPENDENT TASK

TO START:

Read the passage below:

How were people's lives different before cars, trains and planes were invented?

Before cars, trains and planes were invented, it took a long time to travel anywhere.

People travelled on land by horse and carriage. You had to stop a lot for the horses to rest. Journeys were often cold, uncomfortable and difficult.

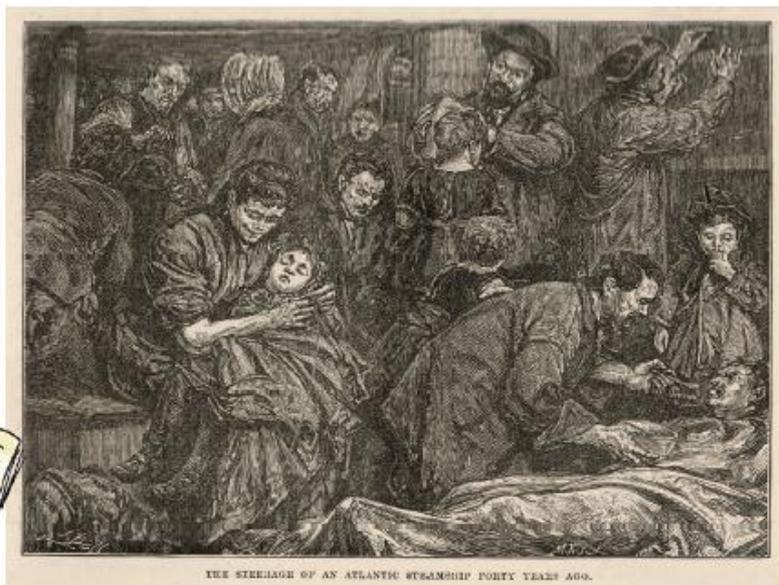

Sailing by ship also took a long time and was often dangerous. Lots of people got seasick!

There weren't any comfortable seats or any heating, which made travelling difficult and cold.

Conditions both above deck and below deck were cramped. And there weren't any toilets so it could often be quite smelly!

Take a look at this picture of passengers below deck on a ship. What do you think the journey was like for the passengers?

Write a sentence to answer the question above.

CHALLENGE

Question: If you could travel anywhere in the world, where would you go?

Write a sentence about where you would like to go and why.

How would you get there?

How long would it take?

Have a go at researching your answers on the internet.
